An eye-catching flaxen chestnut, Ruby is a nicely-trained mare who has enjoyed a life of leisure for several years. She is very nice to ride and does well on trails with inexperienced riders, but has a lot of energy and likes to go so is typically lunged in the round pen prior to being ridden. She has excellent manners, is friendly, easy to handle, good for the vet and farrier, and gets along well with other horses. Ruby has had a good life with excellent care, and her owner would like her to be in a home where she can be appreciated and used. Ruby is the dam of Rhulain, who is also available for adoption.
