Ritz is a calm mare who is sweet and gentle. She was an Amish buggy horse but was bred to show, with Aristocratic Aire (by Noble Command), Tedwin Topic and Waseeka's In Command on her papers.

Ritz is still green under saddle (or bareback) but tries hard to please; she acts like she was previously trained to ride and is now remembering what to do. Her last owner dropped her off at New Holland without any information and did not stay to see where she ended up, although she had harness marks and obviously has been a driving horse. She is doing well at her foster home, friendly and curious although still a little shy, but she is coming around very quickly with good care. With a little more time she will be a very good pleasure riding horse. Her pretty movement would do very well in the show ring.

From her vet : Pupil is permanently scarred down. Still positive menace response, but irregular. Vision in left eye is very poor, but some light is getting through. LF severe ringbone present (arthritis with bony changes of the pastern joint). Mild pain on flexion. Mare is suitable for a small adult rider, walk-trot only.
